Goetz wins election

Sweeps campus election by 510

by Janine Hartman
The Goetz won the 1972 student body election by a margin of 510 over his sole opponent John Goetz. Goetz drew 1400 votes, while Roberts polled 890.

The office of executive vice president went to independent Stan Luvert with 1121 votes, while Goetz's running mate Jim Grannis drew 457 and Rich Grannis from the same slate, who polled 787.

FINANCIAL vice president was Stan Harvey from the same slate, with 1408 votes over the 979 ballots for Carol Grannis, his only opponent. The 1972 figures do not subtract one per cent of the vote subtracted from the Goetz-Grannis-Bolin slate for a rules violation.

The elections committee chairman Duane Krueger announced after a campaign hearing conducted on all the returns were tabulated that the elections committee "unanimously found the Roberts-Grannis-Bolin ticket guilty of violating section 1, article 13 of the revised student government bylaws, due to the source of funds used to purchase ads in the Eastern NEWS to the sum of $120.

The ads were listed as paid for by the "Committee for Better Student Government," which the elections committee ruled as illegal due to the committee not being a registered campus organization.

ELECTIONS committee member Ellen Schanzle however emphasized that the slate was found "technically guilty, but not intentionally" so.

The slate agreed to accept the committee's ruling at that time, but Roberts stated that he would definitely appeal the decision, continuing, "I consider it unfair. We didn't violate the intent. I don't think we violated it period.

"It was probably initiated by people just looking for an excuse to defeat us and not really concerned about justice. It's just petty."

FORMER Student Senator Bill Warmoth, was present at the meeting "acting on behalf of Roberts," and held a power of attorney for the slate.

Warmoth said of the elections committee, "These people are totally lax in their procedure. It was like pulling teeth even getting them to write it down," referring to the committee's decision.

The referendum on the amendment concerning the change of the senate's parliamentary reference from Roberts' Revised Rules of Order to Robert's Newly Revised was not decided in this election, ruled the elections chairman.

THE referendum proposal had not been published in the NEWS, as is required by the student government constitution.

Candidate to talk off cuff

by Marty Spitz
Sen. Edmund Muskie (D-Maine), the front runner for the Democratic nomination for president, will speak in the University Union ballroom today at 11:15 a.m.

This will make the second consecutive day of Muskie's presidential campaign appearances in Illinois.

He is scheduled to speak at a town meeting in Cook County (Niles Township) on Friday.

The talk is to be 10 or 15 minutes off the cuff remarks covering issues such as national and local problems and to students, according to Muskie's advance man, Steve Leakey.

INSTEAD of a formal press conference after the talk, Muskie is encouraging the press to be at the airport and to catch Muskie in the halls during the mingling planned after the speech.

SENATOR Muskie will arrive at the Coles County Courthouse at 11 a.m. after making his appearance in Rockford, Ill.

Muskie is making the visit in an effort to meet as many people as he can. "He likes to spend time with people," said Leakey, "especially students. He is more at home on college campuses than anywhere else with the exception of Maine."

"The senator gives complete answers to questions," Leakey continued, "rather than short quickies." This is part of his style and personality that "sets him apart from the other candidates of both parties,"

Sen. Edmund Muskie

according to Leakey. "He has a genuine statesmanship, a quality of a spiritual nature that moves people."

ALTHOUGH he is from a very conservative state, Muskie's voting record during his senate career, which began in 1958, has been generally liberal. The Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) have rated his liberalism at 97 out of 100.

One of Muskie's main interests is pollution, especially water pollution. He was on the bandwagon long before it became a fad.

Muskie is also concerned with trust in government, and he sees a serious breakdown of communications between people in this country, even more prevalent between Blacks and whites. Such problems could be countered with more contact between the present and the people, according to Leakey.

"HE DOESN'T pull punches," Leakey said, when describing Muskie's speeches. In Florida Muskie said he was opposed to the shuttle which is a big concern in that space conscious state.

FROM EASTERN, Muskie will board his plane at the Coles County airport en route to St. Louis.

The announcement of Muskie's Illinois schedule was made by attorney Angelo G. Geocaris, chairman of the Illinois Muskie campaign.

Geocaris said this visit is only the first of several campaign trips planned for Illinois by the Senator prior to the March 21 primary.

ACLU upholds liberty

by Cindy Nichols
The ACLU has been the champion of individual liberties since the 1920's. The primary if not exclusive purpose of the American Civil Liberties Union has been to see that the provisions of the Bill of Rights, which are essentially restraints on governmental activities, are protected, according to Tom Seals, chairman of the East Central Illinois division of the ACLU.

However, very few of the cases brought to the ACLU are within their realm of action. According to Seals, "only 10 per cent of the cases brought to the ACLU are accepted. Eight per cent of these cases already have a clear precedent established. Only two per cent are new uncharted territory."

THE ACLU only acts in cases where constitutional rights have been violated. Seals added, "We are mainly interested in good precedent cases at the highest possible level."

What is the procedure a prospective case follows? The investigative committee passes on prospective cases to the legal committee. Together with a legal research person from Chicago they decide if there has been a violation of constitutional rights.

Construction begins on married housing

by Debbie Archer
New lighting and electric heat are the two forms of construction which are now under way to improve the existing conditions at the Married Housing Apartments.

New lights will be provided around the whole complex and are described by Dean Kluge as being the same kind of lights as in front of Stevenson Tower.

NOT ONLY will tower lights be added, but lights will also be placed along the top edge of the apartments. According to Dean Kluge, "The lights are being added because of complaints that it was too dark. Cost of this improvement will be about $35,000."

An Interdepartmental Communication's letter stated that "The lighting in the apartment area is not adequate to offer protection to the residents, especially the women

Faculty Senate

Election motion passing

by Mary Anne Hayes

At the faculty senate meeting held Monday, Jan. 31, 1972, the referendum concerning elected versus appointed department chairmen was reported as follows:

1. 67 faculty members or 66 percent voted in favor of elected department chairmen, 144 faculty members or 44 percent voted in favor of appointed department chairmen. AT PRESENT, the faculty is approving the continuation concerning the election of department chairmen, item by item. Thus the following items have been considered:

1. Elections procedure; a 3/5 majority of those eligible to vote required for election.
2. If a department cannot elect a 3/5 majority, the university president, in consultation with the provost, dean, and university personnel committee, will appoint a department chairman candidate as department head for one year.

3. EACH department will establish in writing its own nominations and elections procedures, with the approval of the faculty senate.

4. Not included in the election are deans, directors, chairmen of divisions, and the principal of the lab school.

5. Term of office will be a maximum of two consecutive, three-year terms. A past chairman can be re-elected if at least three years has passed since his chairmanship.

6. ALL continuing full-time staff with more than one year service at Eastern, are eligible to vote.

Other business at the meeting included Robert Barford, of the Philosophy Department, announcing that teacher evaluations will be held the week of February 14.

Details will be announced in the school paper.

IT WAS also reported that at present, Eastern is the only state school under the Board of Governors that is not supporting a proposal, whereby compulsory physical education classes would be replaced by elective physical education classes.

This proposal has been submitted by Chicago State University, Northeastern Ill. University, and Western Ill. University.

The faculty senate has accepted a proposed resolution, protesting the role of the Board of Higher Education, in making recommendations for specific program reductions at Illinois Universities.

Members of the cast of "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," act out a scene from the "Peanuts" musical in front of Snoopy's dog house. The show runs today and Saturday at 8 p.m. with a Sunday matinee at 2 p.m. and again Monday at 8 p.m.

Double-cast musical mimics 'Peanuts'

by Jeff Kayser

"You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" opened Thursday at Eastern. Glendon Gabbard directed the musical production.

The play is double-cast, and each cast is capable and competent. A comparison of the two could only be uselessly subjective. By a flip of the coin, a review of the cast that was tonight.

THE MOVIE code would probably give this show the big rating, but don't let that go away.

Anne Jenkins, as Lucy, is strong enough to hold your attention. Her crabby face and angry march are enough to make-up the audience even without her tantrums, attempted lectures, and psycho-rations.

When she sings to Schroeder, her voice is piercing. No one can play the part any better. SNOOPY, played by Bob Dodd, is in constant conflict with Lucy. His tireless, frantic dancing would put anyone on edge. It drives Lucy mad. Finally, Snoopy unleashes his ultimate weapon—dog germs.

When Shultz first created Snoopy, it was amusing to see a dog think in words. Dodd also capitalizes in this idea by giving the romantic dog a wide range of voices as he imagines scenes in each of his hyperactive periods.

Good grief! I almost forgot Charlie Brown. Everyone seems to forget good old Charlie Brown.

IN THE first scene, J. Sain as Charlie Brown was atop Miss Meltzer's wonderful, three story, multicolored merry-go-round. He was literally getting it from all sides as Lucy and friends popped "Laugh-In" style out of windows in the rotating set to criticize him.

Predictably, things got better. But not much better, (For Charlie Brown, that is!)

to their individual apartments."

THIRTY of the first sixty units which were built in 1957, will receive the benefits of the electric heat. Dean Kluge said, "There were leaks in the heating system. The heating will cost around $55,000."

The Interdepartmental Communication's letter stated "The present hot water heating system is leaking and, according to Everett Alms, head of the Physical Plant and the maintenance men at the apartments, cannot be repaired without a great deal of expense."

"The hot water pipes go under the sidewalk and then to each apartment, thus, any leaks, (once leaks have been found), would involve tearing up the sidewalks and possibly going into the floors of the apartments."

ELECTRIC heating units must be installed unless the present heat is turned off, thus a delay in installation. One is placed in the living room in the bedroom, and one in the bathroom ceiling. These units have already been put in.

Maron Electrical Company from Chicago is in charge of these projects. However, it still takes cooperation from a few other groups such as CIPS, the electrical contractors, the University and a specialist in electricity.

Completion date of the $97,437 project was set for Nov. 31, 1972, but construction is obviously behind due to weather and unforeseen delivery problems.

Reed and Barton

Silversmith scholarships given

During the months of February and March, Reed & Barton, America's oldest major silversmiths, are conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition" in which valuable scholarships totalling $2,599 are being offered to duly enrolled women students at a few selected colleges and universities.

Eastern Illinois University has been selected to enter this competition in which the First Grand Award is a $1,000 scholarship; Second Grand Award is a $500 scholarship; Third Grand Award is a $300 scholarship and Seven Grand Awards of $100 each scholarships.

IN ADDITION, there will be 100 other awards consisting of sterling silver, fine china and crystal with a retail value of approximately $85.00. In the 1972 "Silver Opinion Competition," an entry form illustrates twelve designs of sterling with eight designs of both china and crystal. The entrants simply list the three best combinations of sterling, china and crystal from the patterns illustrated.

Scholarships and awards will be made to those entries matching or coming closest to the unanimous selections of table-setting editors from three of the nation's leading magazines.

KAREN BELL and Anne Vincent are the student representatives who are conducting the "Silver Opinion Competition" for Reed & Barton at Eastern.

Those interested in entering the competition should contact Karen at 419 Andrews Hall, 581-2551, or Anne at 809

Lawson Hall, 581-5344, for entry blanks and for complete details concerning the competition rules.

The representatives also have samples of twelve of the most popular Reed & Barton designs so that entrants can see how these sterling patterns actually look.

THROUGH THE opinions on silver design, expressed by college women competing for these scholarships, Reed & Barton hopes to compile a valuable library of expression of young American taste.

Sanhedrin on campus

by Debbie Archer

According to Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary, Sanhedrin means the supreme council and tribunal of the Jews in New Testament times having religious, civil and criminal jurisdiction.

Beware—there is just such a group on campus.

THE Sanhedrin on Eastern's campus is composed of all those students enrolled in Speech 140. Another name given to this course is Parliamentary Law.

Led by Glen Wiley, who is referred to by the group as the Lord High, Supreme Potentate, this group carries on very important business when they meet each Tuesday night at 7 p.m.

Using Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised, the citizens participate in enrolling the rules of parliamentary procedure as they pass very important motions.

SOME OF the more interesting motions which have been proposed and passed are "I move an article be written for the Eastern NEWS about the class and what goes on," and "I move each person make a desk tag for himself so that each person can get to know everyone else in the group."

The Sanhedrin is comprised of the following active people: James Allison, Debbie Archer, Ed Bremer, Dan Christensen, Vickie Clay, Al Grbsboll, Jeff Hunt, Tom McAllister, Jim Miller, Gayle Pesavento, Sue Schwartz, Gwyn Shea, and Jim Stephenson.

Supposedly each member of the group will have a chance to act as chairman and secretary.

THROUGH this channel each person enrolled will have a chance to experience the traumas of trying to run a meeting in which correct parliamentary procedure is practiced.

Anyone who is interested in seeing a perfect example of how parliamentary procedure can make the attendance of a meeting interesting and rewarding is invited to attend.

News editorials

Winners congratulated

Now that the dust of the student body election has settled, and we have a new president slated to take office in spring, the NEWS would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the newly elected officers.

We feel that those people chosen by the student body will do an outstanding job for the students if they continue in the direction that their past records and campaign pledges indicate that they will head.

WE WOULD like to remind these officers that we feel that the campaign is only a small part of the job that is ahead for them. The real test of their ability during the coming year will be if they can live up to the promises that they made during the presidential race.

The NEWS feels that these persons will fulfill their campaign pledges to the fullest extent of their ability.

For this reason we are expecting a surge of student power during the next school year. We believe that the choice of this student body will help us to make further advances in the area of student rights.

THE NEWS will continue to fulfill its obligations to the students by scrutinizing the action of our new officers and by bringing to the students attention any areas where help may be needed in furthering the students' position in the university community.

Again we would like to affirm our trust in Mike Goetz, Henry Luvert, and Stan Harvey, our new student body officers.

Letters

Writer slams 'News' letter

To the Editor:

I, among other members on the university community, have observed an unusual editorial in the January 17 issue of the Eastern NEWS.

It invited (or baited) a reasoning causing the disrespectful behavior of not standing during the playing of the national anthem and school song at home basketball games.

Hopefully our school paper receives an abundance of letters already and doesn't need to artificially propagate support. Therefore, regretfully I will legitimately rebut the article.

When a degenerate member of the emerging counter culture displays an American flag functioning as a patch for his worn blue-jeans, he is violating the law.

WHAT IS overlooked by the American redneck is a basic principle of general semantics: the map is not the territory. In context with sitting during sing-a-long-time at basketball games this principle is also appropriate.

Standing during anthems does not symbolize the territory of patriotism. So when a body doesn't participate in this antiquated symbolic maneuver, don't categorize him as another degenerate that lacks affectionate emotional bonds toward America or its Eastern, because you shouldn't talk behind my back.

Disrespectfully

'Victim' applauds 'News' probe

Dear Editor:

I once was a resident of, or should I say a victim of, one of the houses you have had in your investigation, that house being the ever-present plague of Charleston's Hernando's, and I can testify as to the validity of your probe.

Hernando's for years has been known as one of the outstanding sources of degradation that is supposedly O.K.'d by the housing office staff.

THE HOUSING office now there's a good one-they are more like bookkeepers for the housing barons on the so-called "approved" list.

Hernando's is by far not the worst offender. I have friends in "approved" housing elsewhere in the Eastern area, and some of their "homes" put Hernando's to shame, but not too much shame.

Jim Pinsker has done a commendable job and you too Mr. Britton. Not many people in your position would be willing to back a stand such as the admirable one you now hold.

I HOPE Mr. Pinsker does not let a little UNJUST criticism hinder his enthusiasm. I believe the only alternative the housing office bookkeepers have is to remove many of these "HOLES" from the "approved" list.

Nobody is a winner

Two days ago Selective Service held its fourth annual lottery, this time drawing the random selection numbers for men born in 1953. Unless they hold deferments or exemption, such men will face induction sometime during 1973 if and when their number is reached.

Most news accounts of the event included the line that it "appeared" that men with numbers over 125 would "probably be safe."

IF YOU'RE at all up on your fractions, you can figure out that about one-third of the men who got their numbers on Wednesday now assume that they are among the potential "losers."

They're wrong. We all lose that lottery every time it takes place.

We lose, to begin with, because it's a sign that for another year our nation has tolerated a system which is often careless with the rights of individuals. To be sure, the new law passed last fall granted some important new rights to registrants. But what Congress gave Selective Service taketh away.

NEW regulations going into effect this month shorten from thirty to fifteen days the period in which a man can appeal a classification, deny a man the opportunity to register as a conscientious objector at the time he registers for the draft, and so on.

And it still remains true that about the only way a man can get a court to review the way he has been treated by Selective Service is to commit the crime of refusing induction.

A lot of that kind of limitation of freedom could be tolerated if it were vital to our national survival, but, in fact, the draft is not. Despite the pleas made to Congress last September about the urgency of restoring the President's authority to induct, that authority has gone virtually unused since then.

THE TRUTH is the Army doesn't need draftees and, indeed, even having trouble finding room for all those who are enlisting.

But we lose most of all by continuing to place in the hands of our national leaders the option of taking up new military adventures without our consent. Even if we go to "zero-draft" in 1973, the danger of more "Viet-Nams" will not disappear.

As Arlo Tatum put it, "The Selective Service System will still be there, tempting any president to become impatient with diplomacy when he can send thousands of conscripts somewhere-anywhere to deal with whatever situation he finds unsatisfactory."

"THE REASON the 'stand-by' draft is wanted by the President is the same reason there should not be one, namely that it could be reactivated without the need to persuade the public that it was necessary or for a valid cause."

We don't need fewer draft calls or even no draft calls. We need no draft.

Delta Sig nomads settle

by Debbie Schmidt

"The nomads have finally settled," said Steve Davalos, member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Housemother honored

Mrs. Sadie Mitchell, house mother of the Beta Sigma Psi fraternity, was presented with a silver tray at a reception given by the fraternity in her honor. Congratulating Mrs. Mitchell are: (l-r) President Gilbert Fite and Lakeland President Virgil Judge.

THE four-bedroom house can hold eight to ten people. Alice Walker from Carlyle Realty is the owner of the house and has made many improvements for the new residents.

She has put in new paneling, a new furnace, and has made a parking lot out of part of the back yard for the fraternity members.

There is a spacious kitchen where the boys can do their own cooking and a basement and garage that can be used for storage purposes.

WHEN asked how he liked the new fraternity house, Larry Closson, the newly elected president of the fraternity replied, "It's really nice. You have all the privacy you want and plenty of closet space. In fact, we even have one guy who sleeps in the closet."

After having to move out of their previous house on Seventh Street because of neighborhood difficulties, Larry said he was glad that the house was zoned commercially. This way there is no danger of the Delta Sigs having to move until they are ready this time.

Dinner play cast chosen

The cast for the Charleston Community Theatre's production of "Mary, Mary" has been selected. The comedy will be presented as a dinner-theatre production at the Charleston Country Club Friday and Saturday, Feb. 18 and 19. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and curtain will be 8 p.m.

Tickets will be $6 per person. This price will include a delicious buffet dinner and the production. Tickets will be on sale soon at selected locations to be announced in the next few days. Only a limited number of tickets will be available.

To show flick

"Duffy," starring James Coburn, ("Our Man Flint") James Mason and Susannah York is tonight's SAB movie at the Lab School Auditorium. It is a classic adventure film in the truest sense of exotic, captivating backgrounds and a wild plot.

The story unwinds with Coburn and Mason as two half brothers who try to embarrass their tycoon father by heisting a million dollars from his luxury liner. The whole operation is strictly for fun with double and triple crosses popping up everywhere. As one reviewer stated, "It is guaranteed not to bore anyone to death."

ADMISSION is 25 cents and showings are at 6:30 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Lyles' slogan gripping

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A sign over the desk of former Baltimore Colts defensive half-back Lenny Lyles shows a black hand and white hand clasped together and reads: "What will you risk-responsibility, unity, understanding and progress."

Lyles, 35, created the slogan and had it made up in the drafting department of the Brown and Williamson Tobacco Corp., where he is training coordinator for some 5,000 people.

Benefit game to be played

A benefit basketball game, sponsored by the Coles County Association for the Retarded, will be played in the Charleston High School Gymnasium Saturday night, Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the game will go for wheel chairs and other needed equipment at the center.

THE TWO teams pitted against each other in the contest will be the C-Car "Wheels", comprised of staff members of Coles Training and Development Center and Coles Living Facility for Adults, and the WTHI Aardvarks from Terre Haute.

Half-time entertainment at the game will be provided by the Pink Panthers.

WORDS LIKE those mean a lot to Lyles, a product of the Louisville ghetto who grew up with rats, roaches and crime.

Now more than ever, the man who played 10 years with the Colts is trying to instill these qualities in others, mainly kids.

Last year he spoke three nights a week at high schools, youth correctional homes, little league functions, churches and settlement houses.

HE SHOWS films of his Colts' days, tosses footballs with youngsters on the block, takes them to ball games and tells them about his life.
